

Seasonal Headquarters—Inside/Outside

The activity at NARTE Headquarters always seems to escalate over the holidays, and this Winter season continues the "tradition." Your HQ Staff - Laura, Sandy and Shannon, took an outdoor breather in the crisp New Year air (upper right) to wish all a happy holiday season before dashing back in to warm up around the fire. You can see the fireplace in the indoor Headquarters photo (lower left) of Dick Ford, our newest member of the NARTE Board of Directors, and his wife Terri Ford. The staff was pleased to welcome Dick and Terri to NARTE headquarters. They met the HQ staff and Laura gave the Fords a "tour" of our illustrious facility. The picture (lower right) shows the new 30-year roof being applied to the HQ building during a lull in the snow storms that blanketed the area for much of the Winter. Then there is Russ Carstensen (upper left), your Executive Director, keeping out of the cold in his own way during one of his many trips to Medway. Usually he has his finger on the pulse of NARTE activities, but here he — well, you can see. At least he's not at Hooters (See HQ Highlights for an explanation!). Spring is nigh upon us!
